

Women's Dog Sledding: Writing the Experience

You'll be immersed in the off-grid lifestyle of a female dog musher in the awe-inspiring remote north woods, as you learn to run your own small team of traditional sled dogs, then guided in reflection and journaling on your experience.

Join Linda Newman, owner and dog musher of Points Unknown and Mary Ellen Ashcroft, writer and teacher of Windcradle, as they offer a limit of SIX women per session, an adventure like no other. This is an active experience for the body, inspiring creativity for the mind, that also nourishes the soul. $995 includes all instruction, rustic lodging and collaborative meals.
